Petrushka performed with puppets and props, by the NY Philharmonic conducted by Alan Gilbert. This Youtube video is the ENTIRE 35 minute production. The NY Phil and the conductor are costumed and choreographed. There are puppets, toys, and found objects manipulated live and projected above the orchestra. At 6:30 in the conductor's baton becomes a puppet; at 7:30 a tiny puppet theatre and puppets appear. The creator is Doug Fitch and his Giants are Small company. Mr Fitch and company collaborated with the NY Philharmonic on two previous productions, and he is the brother of Chris Fitch, one of the artists represented in this book.

<http://automatomania.co.uk/about/>

“Automata are mechanical objects endowed with life by ingenious means.”

The House of Automata (Michael and Maria Start, proprietors) is a specialist automata company, restoring, advising on, and making automata to commission. Uniquely, over 20 years, we have gained expertise in most types of antique & modern automata. Our clients include collectors, auction houses, media and museums. We can usually give good advice on any automata question.

“The House of Automata is a busy restoration workshop, visitors welcome to the workshop by prior arrangement.”
